Dear Mr. Cottrell:

We have just been informed of your plans concerning the forthcoming "Great China-USA Friendship Runs" tentatively scheduled for 2007 and 2008. This is certainly remarkable that you are going back to China and do a "repeat performance" of what you did in 1984 and 1985. Your successful efforts then gained global attention and with the improved communications of today we can only imagine the global attention this event will bring.

We find it amazing that you will run 2,200 miles run from the Great Wall to Hong Kong next October, and in 2008 you will invite a Chinese delegation to run with you in relay fashion from San Francisco and finish in Washington, D.C., with a detour by way of West Point and through New York City. We know an effort such as this will require the help of many individuals and officials from both countries.

We think this idea is a special gesture of friendship and goodwill that demonstrates the initiative of people going the extra mile to promote greater understanding through sporting activities.

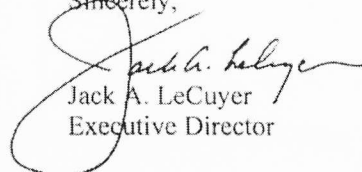

The White House Fellows see this endeavor as an expression of the sincere desire of both the Chinese and American people to build upon warm relations and friendship at all levels between our respective countries. People-to-people efforts with these intentions are always good.

We have further been informed that you and Messrs: Jiang Zi Ting and his brother Jiang Yu Ting, owners of the Beishute Beijing Corporation, are working on plans leading to the formation of "The Great Wall Fellows" which mirror similar goals and objectives we have enjoyed as a body now for more than forty years. We would welcome the opportunity of having friendly exchanges with such an organization.

Thank you for the invitation to join you at the Great Wall for the send-off ceremonies and to participate in all phases of the event when the "Running Ambassadors" come to the United States. The Great China-USA Friendship Run certainly generates the feelings and philosophy associated with the forthcoming 2008 Olympic Games in Beijing.

Therefore, we, The White House Fellows, salute and congratulate the efforts and the people in China and the United States associated with this initiative of making a positive difference for the benefit our two great nations. We believe The Great China-USA Friendship Run will bring warm feelings wonderful memories for generations to come.

Sincerely,

Jack A. LeCuyer
Executive Director
